

Critics Dissatisfied With Laos Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of U.S. involvement in Laos charge President Nixon still has failed to tell the full story of the American role in the little Southeast Asian country. "I don't think it goes all the way," Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Friday after Nixon's 3,000 word statement on the U.S. role in Laos was released at Key Biscayne, Fla.

Things Glossed Over?

"There are a number of things that are glossed over," said Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., who said he is pressing for the public release of testimony on Laos given by administration officials before a closed Senate subcommittee. Nixon said air combat missions over Laos in the last six years have cost nearly 400 U.S. casualties and 400 planes. He said there are no American ground combat troops in Laos and no plans for sending any.

616 U.S. Employees

The President said the total number of Americans employed by the U.S. government in Laos is 616. Another 424 are working on contract for the government and for firms under government contract, he said. Of the total 1,040 Americans, Nixon said, 320 are engaged in military advisory or training activities and 323 in logistics work.

"I don't see anything new in it much," said Fulbright of Nixon's statement. He added that it isn't just the statement, "it's the answers we are interested in."

McGovern Interested

McGovern said he is still interested in a secret Senate session on Laos if the controversial transcript of subcommittee hearings is not released by the administration.

He said that "we have several hundred ground personnel in Laos cooperating with the Laotian Army" in violation of the 1962 Geneva accords.

"Our military planners and our national security people have come to the conclusion that they have a divine right to deceive the American people," McGovern charged.

Sen. George D. Aiken, senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said he thought Nixon's appeal to Britain and the Soviet Union for help in easing the Laos crisis had the effect of "putting Russia on the spot."

Anti-Inflation Plans Of Nixon Hurts Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high AFL-CIO official said today the nation's sharply rising unemployment under President Nixon's anti-inflation policies is threatening White House efforts to put more Negroes into jobs.

"This work may very well be impeding in coming months by unemployment, which is already rising and may go even higher," said Lane Kirkland, secretary-treasurer of the 13.6 million member labor federation.

The Nixon administration reported Friday the nation's jobless rate jumped from 3.9 to 4.2 per cent of the civilian labor force, or a rise of 388,000 unemployed to a total of 3.8 million.

The rise brought unemployment to the highest level in nearly five years and the two-month jump in January and February totaling seven-tenths of one per cent was the highest in some 13 years.

"A slack economy means unemployment," Kirkland said in remarks prepared for a meeting of the National Alliance of Businessmen, a group cooperating with the White House to find jobs for the hard-core unemployed, mostly Negroes, in private firms.

"Unemployment threatens the progress and success of the National Alliance of Businessmen jobs program," said Kirkland. AFL-CIO President George Meany has charged Nixon's efforts to slow the sharpest rise in living costs in 20 years with tight money, high interest and federal spending cuts is severely hurting workers and consumers. The big labor federation has asked the White House to ease the stringent economic policies, especially to pump more money into low and middle income housing.

Detroit Police Station Bombs Found, Defused

DETROIT (AP) — Bombs were planted at a Detroit police precinct station and a headquarters of the Detroit Police Officers Association but failed to go off and were defused by police Friday.

Police said one bomb, armed with 34 sticks of dynamite, was found Friday morning in a women's restroom stall of the station at 4747 Woodward Ave. The other, made with ten dynamite sticks, was discovered Friday night by a policeman outside the association building, 2899 West Grand Blvd.

Police said they had no clues who planted the bombs but that the explosives were the same make and both dated June 30, 1969.

The bomb at the precinct was discovered by a woman who became curious about a waste basket she knew did not belong inside the women's restroom. She shoved the waste basket and was surprised at its heaviness, she said.

A police cusodian was summoned and carried the container into the hall, pushing about 30 feet before calling a police patrolman to examine it.

Police said they found 34 sticks of dynamite wrapped in black tape. A fuse lead to one stick and two short, burned-out cigarette stubs were attached to the fuse. Police said the cigarettes had been smothered by their own smoke.

If they had continued to burn, the entire north half of the two-story brick police station would have been leveled and the south portion would have been "damaged considerably," according to Police Inspector Clifton G. Casey.

Police said whoever planted the bomb in the restroom had left the building by walking 50 feet down the hall past the station's maindesk, where a group of officers sat, and out the front door.

Israelis Attack Town In Lebanon

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israeli military command said today Israeli raiders crossed into Lebanon and blew up five buildings in a small village.

A spokesman said the raid Friday night was a reply to 37 acts of sabotage since Jan. 1 against Israeli settlements across the normally quiet 49-mile Israeli-Lebanese border.

The strike force killed one Arab terrorist, the spokesman said and returned safely with two captives. The target was the village of Aita Ech Chaab, less than a mile from the border.

In Beirut, a military spokesman said the Israelis sent two forces across the frontier. One attacked the village, killing one Lebanese soldier and wounding a civilian. The other apparently tried to cut off Arab guerrillas suspected of escaping from the village, the spokesman added.

Earlier Friday, Israeli reconnaissance jets battled Egyptian MIG21s on the Egyptian side of the Suez Canal and shot down two of them, the Israelis said.

Candidate Gets Majority Vote Of 91 Per Cent

LANSING (AP) — Lenore Romney, wife of a Nixon cabinet member, was named today by Michigan Republican leaders as their "preferred candidate" for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Democrat Philip A. Hart.

Mrs. Romney, a 61-year-old grandmother, is the wife of former Gov. George Romney, who served from 1963 until early 1969 when he resigned to become Secretary for Housing and Urban Development under President Nixon.

Husband Resigns

Romney, himself, made a brief bid for the GOP presidential nomination in 1968. Mrs. Romney has been an articulate and active campaigner for her husband, but has never held public office.

The vote was announced as 278 for Mrs. Romney and 25 opposed, a majority of better than 91 per cent.

The Republican leadership had said a 75 per cent majority would be necessary to name the preferred candidate. Mrs. Romney failed to get it in three ballots at a meeting two weeks ago, although she was unopposed on the third ballot.

Milliken Chairman

Gov. William Milliken was chairman of both meetings and urged the delegates today to "unite behind Lenore Romney and give a resounding victory in November."

The only major dissent came from the 14th Congressional District, where conservative Richard Durant is GOP chairman. The district takes in the prosperous Grosse Pointe suburbs outside Detroit.

Durant's district voted 13-1 against Mrs. Romney.

Hart Breaker?

Delegates carried such signs as "Lenore the Hart Breaker," "We will Score With Lenore" and "Lead On Lenore."

Milliken warned the meeting was likely to be a short one and said, "as an added attraction, I've arranged for the moon to come between the earth and the sun—and if that isn't leadership, I don't know what is."

Durant countered that he had heard if Mrs. Romney was not nominated before noon, "George Romney would blot out the sun."

"I topped your punch line," Milliken said, getting in the last word.

Civilian Jobs Cut At Sawyer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Michigan military installations were among those announced as closing or being reduced in manpower Friday by the Defense Department.

Identified were the Naval Reserve Training Facility in Alpena, which will be closed by July 1970 and its functions transferred to the Training Center at Cadillac. This move will remove one military position.

In Detroit the scope of the Defense Supply Agency's Defense Contract Administration will be reduced by April 1971.

Operations at the K.I. Sawyer Air Base at Gwinn in the Upper Peninsula's Marquette County will be reduced by July 1971. They will eliminate 52 civilian positions and add 69 military positions.

Wurtsmith Air Base at Oscoda will make manpower adjustments adding 116 military positions and cutting back 40 civilians.

In Warren the U.S. Army Tank and Automotive Command at the Detroit Arsenal will be reduced by July 1970 through elimination of certain civilian positions.

These actions are part of a nationwide program that Defense Sec. Laird said will bring Defense Department spending in line with the budget cuts made by Congress.

Judge Rules:

Manson Not Capable Of Defending Himself

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A judge has appointed a lawyer for Charles M. Manson, saying the grade-school dropout is "hopelessly inadequate" to defend himself against charges of murdering actress Sharon Tate and six others.

Manson, objecting bitterly throughout the Superior Court hearing Friday, exclaimed: "You can kill me, but you can't give me an attorney! I won't take one."

Followers Protest

Three Manson followers who shouted protests at the judge were found in contempt of court.

In revoking the permission he had granted Manson to defend himself, trial judge William B. Keene said Manson lacked legal knowledge, his grammar and reading ability were limited, he was unable to type and unwilling to follow rules.

"You indicated to the court that you were incapable of following the most rudimentary rules of the . . . jail, even in such things as eating or taking a shower," Keene told Manson.

Complexity Stresses

Keene stressed the complexity and seriousness of the crimes. Manson and five members of his Hippie-type "family" are charged with murder and conspiracy in the slayings Aug. 9 and 10. All but one are set for trial March 30.

"I'm satisfied that if you went to trial before a jury on charges as complex as these . . . it would be a fundamental denial of due process," Keene said.

He reminded Manson that he had grave doubts when he ruled in December that Manson could defend himself. At that time, Keene told Manson: "You are making a sad and tragic mistake."

Lawyer Appointed

A motion Manson had submitted Friday included requests that two deputy district attorneys be jailed so they would have the same restrictions as he did in preparing for trial, and that the court address him as "Charlie."

Keene appointed Charles Hollopeter of Pasadena to defend Manson. He said that if Manson wants to choose another attorney, he will be glad to substitute him for Hollopeter, a veteran criminal lawyer.

Oil Spill Fatal To 10,000 Birds

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Gobs of heavy oil, apparently flushed from passing tankers, clog beaches along 1,000 miles of shoreline on the east coast of Kodiak Island, and federal spokesmen estimate at least 10,000 birds have been killed by it.

"It appears that it has been a series of tankers coming in and dumping dirty ballast water," Gene Dickason, director of the federal Water Pollution Control Administration office in Anchorage said Friday.

"But I think there's no way we can ever identify any specific vessel responsible."

The 1,000 miles of shoreline includes a myriad of intricate indentations that reach into the east side of the Kodiak Island group from the northern tip of Afognak Island 200 miles southwest to the southern end of the Trinity Islands.

The oil first was noted Feb. 6, Ray Morris of Kodiak, a representative of the federal antipollution agency said. Fishermen discovered the sticky stuff on buoys, but it was a couple of weeks, Morris said, before the extent of the oil spill was realized. Bad weather prevented flights to inspect the area until this week.

"If we can't find a way to curb this sort of situation, we'll wipe out the water birds here," Morris said.

Dickason said members of his staff walked along seven miles of beach and "found piles of dead birds." Nothing can be done to try to save others doused with the substance because the area is so remote, he said.

Morris said the oil spill was unlike the slick that coated Santa Barbara, Calif., beaches last year.

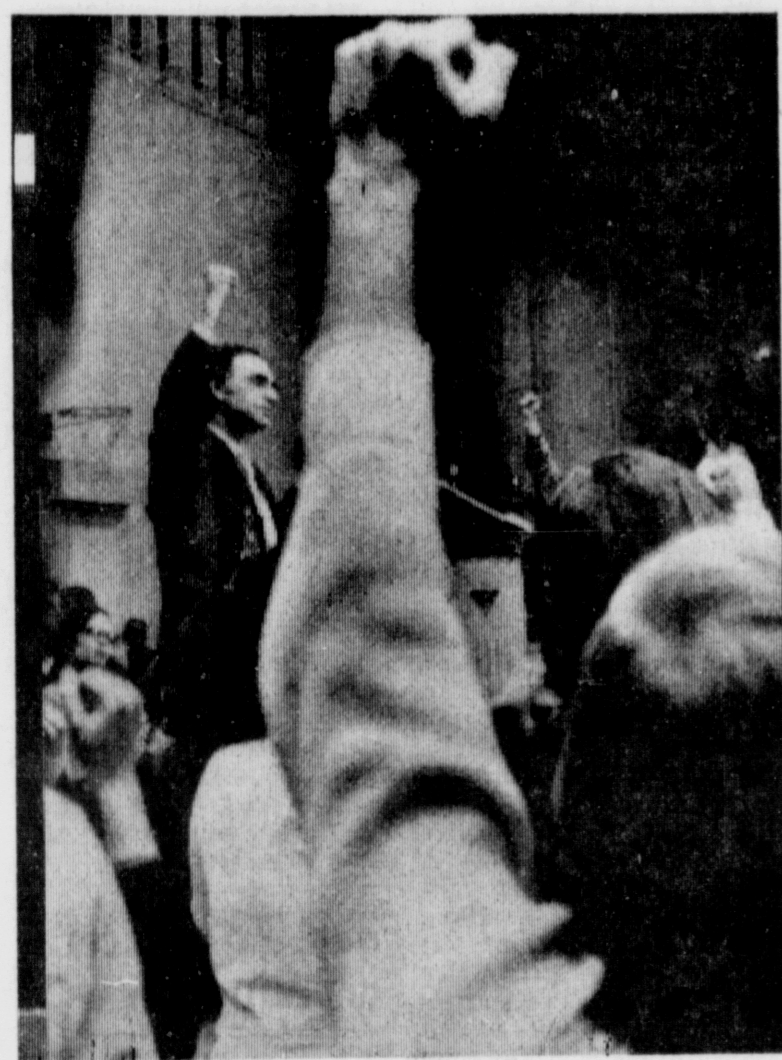

"It's not like Santa Barbara," he said. "Almost all the oil has been washed away from the beaches. We're finding oil clumps in debris on the beach, in kelp, fishnets and fish floats."

Morris said the estimate of 10,000 birds killed was conservative and that dead birds had been drifting onto the beaches since last month.

The deputy regional director for the antipollution agency, Earl Kari of Portland, Ore., said the oil may have been discharged by a tanker far off shore and have been blown westward to the beaches by high wind.

Red China Road Worries Allies

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Laotian, Thai and American officials say they are concerned about a road Red China is building from its borders through northern Laos to within 20 miles of the Laotian border with Thailand.

Intelligence reports say 6,000 Chinese are involved in the road-building project, which began in September 1968. About 2,500 of this number are reportedly Chinese army troops who provide security. On Feb. 24, they shot down a Laotian air force T28 as it flew reconnaissance over the road.

An Air America plane of the CIA-financed charter airline that provides most of the air transport in northern and northeastern Laos was also reported damaged recently by anti-aircraft fire. The report could not be confirmed.

Military sources in Vientiane say the Chinese are known to have 14.5mm, 12.7mm and 37mm anti-aircraft guns.

The road comes out of China at Batane in northern Laos and travels southeast to Muong Sai, 35 miles away by air.

It is two lanes as far as Muong Sai. This part of the road apparently was built under a protocol signed in 1962 by the Chinese and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, the now-exiled military leader of the rightist faction in Laos.

From Muong Sai, which is developing into an important communications center, the road forks in two directions. One fork runs northeast to Muong La, where it is expected to link up with the old French route 19 to Dien Bien Phu in North Vietnam, 55 miles away.

Clearing activity has been noted on the 15-mile stretch from Muong Sai to Muong La.

Votings Rights Challenge Fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, after defeating efforts to water down legislation extending the 1965 Voting Rights Act, takes up next week more Southern challenges to the bill and an attempt to tack on a provision lowering the voting age to 18.

In floor action Friday on the bill that proposes to renew the 1965 measure, rather than adopt a House-passed Nixon administration proposal, the Senate beat back amendments offered by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., to soften the impact of the 1965 law.

Republicans John Tower of Texas and Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska, and Democrat Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, were the only senators from outside the Deep South joining the minority in Ervin's attempt to slash the number of Dixie counties covered by the 1965 law. The amendment lost 58-19.

Ervin opposes extension of the old act, which prohibits literacy tests and authorizes federal registrars to protect residents' voting rights in areas where less than 50 per cent of the voting age population voted in the 1964 general election.

Those criteria apply only to 36 of 39 North Carolina counties and the states of Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia.

Speech, Hearing Clinic Enlists Aid Of Parents

A new type of program, with emphasis on teaching parents how to help their children at home, is a part of the pre-school speech and hearing clinic that is now under way, conducted by the Delta - Schoolcraft Intermediate School District.

The program requires parent participation and attendance as well as that of the children during the summer program of speech and language improvement activities, for pre-school and early elementary children.

The pre-school hearing and speech clinic of the speech and hearing department of the Intermediate School District has the cooperation of the constituent school districts.

The clinic was originally designed to run one week with five speech and hearing therapists participating. Because of parental interest the clinic was extended for one week and the services of Mrs. Jane Williams to help with the hearing testing were enlisted. She is an employee of the Intermediate School District at the Kennedy School.

Also assisting at the new Jefferson School in Escanaba is Miss Diane Robinette, speech and hearing major at Western Michigan University. Miss Robinette is originally from the Bark River - Harris School District.

So far, 104 children have had their speech, language and hearing evaluated at one of the 12 centers set up for this purpose. Parents from every community in the two-county area have participated.

Children who have severe problems are being found and a tentative program for their benefit has been outlined — the program that enlists the participation of the parents in helping the children in the home in overcoming their problem.

Health Director Earns Certificate

A certificate of achievement from the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association has been presented to Dr. Mary Cretens, M. D., director of the Delta-Menominee District Health Department in the state-wide tuberculin testing program.

The certificate was signed by Winthrop N. Davey, M. D., president and J. Irvin Nichols, executive director, of the Christmas Seal organization.

Schools in Delta County were previously presented with certificates by the health department for achieving 85 per cent or higher participation in the special ninth grade program. Total enrollment of the ninth grade students in eight schools in the county is 888 of whom 807 participated in the program.

Purpose of the testing program is to determine the index of TB infection in this age group as a basis for developing guidelines for school tuberculin testing programs in Michigan. Sponsors of the program were the state and local health departments, the tuberculosis association, and the schools.

North Central Files Suit In 1968 Crash

CHICAGO — North Central Airlines is suing two corporations which converted to turbo-prop a Canvair 440 plane that crashed at O'Hare airport here Dec. 27, 1968, with the loss of 28 lives.

North Central is being sued for several million dollars by survivors of the crash victims. Investigation of the crash is still pending by the National Transportation Safety Board.

The airline Thursday filed a cross-complaint in Circuit Court in Chicago contending Pacific Airmotive Corp. and General Motors Corp. should reimburse it for losses resulting from the crash.

Pacific Airmotive converted the Canvair from reciprocal engine to turbo-prop, using General Motors engines.

The complaint contends the Canvair was not sufficiently tested after conversion to the new power system.

North Central filed the cross-complaint in a suit in which an Indianapolis college student is asking $1 million damages from the airline, Pacific Airmotive and General Motors. The complainant alleges she is a paraplegic because of injuries received in the accident.

R. P. Tobin, attorney for North Central, said the ruling on the cross-complaint would be applicable to other pending suits against the airline.

The lawyer said the airline has adequate insurance to cover its liabilities resulting from the crash.

Although no official cause has been given for the crash, federal investigators hint that turbulence from another plane may have been a factor.

The Canvair swerved away from landing approach and slammed into the Braniff Airways hangar, and burned.

Lawmaker Raps Capitol Newsmen

LANSING (AP) — Newspaper, radio and television reporters who cover the State Legislature are unpaid lobbyists for huge, profiteering corporations, one legislator charged Thursday in the House.

Rep. James Del Rio, D - Detroit, blasted Capitol newsmen, particularly those from Detroit, for what Del Rio said were criminally vicious reports of his own activities.

Registered Lobbyist

Del Rio and a small group of legislators traveled to Puerto Rico last Thanksgiving in order to study low-cost housing programs there. The group was accompanied by Tatum T. Eason Jr., a registered lobbyist whom Del Rio had hired to be a staff aide for the committee.

A lobbyist for various groups at one time or another, Eason was sentenced last April to serve 1-10 years in jail for conviction on bribery charges while Royal Oak Township's urban renewal director.

The trip received no publicity at the time, coming to light only months later. Subsequently, Del Rio filed a report of his committee's findings.

Reports Submitted

Replying Thursday some three months after the reports of his trip, Del Rio said, "I have traveled twice in five years and each time submitted reports, which 80 per cent of the Legislature does not do."

The Detroit Free Press, in a lead editorial, had deplored the trip and said it was improper for Del Rio to hire a lobbyist. Reports of other winter traveling by legislators to warmer climates led House Speaker William A. Ryan to call for reforms of committee spending. Ryan's proposal to assume nearly complete personal control over spending repeatedly has been delayed in the House.

Not Improper

Del Rio, contending it was not improper to hire Eason while he was appealing his sentence, lobbyists are newspaper reporters. They use free light, desks and have private phones.

"The Free Press and the News do not pay their fair share of taxes and they don't distribute any free newspapers," Del Rio charged. "But reporters eat every free meal they can get their faces on."

WJBK-TV, he said, "uses the public airwaves to save $50,000 a year." Referring to its ownership to its ownership by Storer Broadcasting Co., a Miami-based corporation, Del Rio said, "I refuse to be intimidated or told what to do by em-

Pollution Bad Today, OK Tomorrow: Court

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Court of Appeals has ruled in a split decision that a large cement plant in the Hudson Valley may continue pollution activities after it pays damages to nearby property owners for injuries to their land.

The high court also suggested that the damages be permanent. In other words, no future action could be taken against the company for pollution once the damages are paid.

Judge Matthew Jsen, in a sharp dissent, said the majority opinion amounted to a "license" of a continuing wrong. "It is the same as saying to the cement company," he wrote, "you may continue to do harm to your neighbors so long as you pay a fee for it."

The suit was brought against the Atlantic Cement Company Inc. of Ravena, near Albany. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Boomer and Charles J. Meilak, who live near the plant, had contended that the dirt, smoke and vibration from the plant had damaged their property.

Lower courts found that the property was indeed damaged and found for the property owners in the amount of $185,000 in permanent damages.

The lower courts, however, denied the petition seeking halt to the pollution activities.

The Court of Appeals, on the other hand, granted the injunction until permanent damages were paid. It ordered the lower court to reassess the amount of permanent damages and determine the amount to be paid. Judge Francis Gergan wrote in the majority opinion: "It has been said that permanent damages are allowed where the loss recoverable would obviously be small as compared with the cost of removal of the nuisance."

"It seems reasonable to think," he said, "that the risk of being required to pay permanent damages to injured property owners by cement plant owners would itself be a reasonably effective spur to research for improved techniques to minimize nuisance."

Judge Jason, in dissenting, wrote that "once such permanent damages are assessed and paid, the incentive to alleviate the wrong would be eliminated, thereby continuing air pollution of an area without abatement."

"I would enjoin the defendant cement company," he said, "from continuing the discharge of dust particles upon its neighbors, properties unless, within 18 months, the cement company abated this nuisance."

Salmon Moderation

There has been a great deal of criticism in the Escanaba area recently directed at the Department of Natural Resources and its coho and chinook salmon planting programs. The coho have been described all the way from DDT-riddled trash fish to voracious scavengers which unless checked will clean out every edible fish in all of Lake Michigan.

Undoubtedly, some of the criticism is deserved.

But before the people of the area get too carried away and storm the hatchery at Thompson or start picketing district headquarters in Escanaba, maybe there should be a little self-examination.

The Department of Natural Resources, of course, has to take all the credit or blame for inaugurating the coho salmon program in the Great Lakes a half dozen years ago. At that time the planting of salmon was regarded as a giant experiment, but the initial success went beyond the wildest dreams of even the most optimistic biologists and resorters.

Instead of a trickle, the salmon returned to the stream of their planting by the hundreds and thousands. And as the salmon came so did the fishermen. Reports of the exciting battles with 15 and 20 pound monsters spread rapidly throughout the midwest. Communities along Lake Michigan in northern lower Michigan were overwhelmed with anxious anglers.

Salmon didn't rank as "nuisances" then and the pressures on the DNR to plant coho in streams near practically every community in the state grew stronger.

Remember the excitement in the spring of 1968 when the Department announced that it would plant salmon in the Whitefish River system? Remember the madness off the mouth of Thompson Creek in July, August and September of 1968 when fishermen jammed the water elbow-to-elbow, throwing every lure imaginable into the lake in an effort to land one of those "nuisance" fish? Remember the excited talk of fishermen from Delta County who were eagerly awaiting the return of the salmon to the Whitefish so the drive to the fishing spot wouldn't take so long?

Is all forgotten? This is not to say that the Michigan salmon program is the greatest thing to hit the Great Lakes or to suggest that it hasn't been mismanaged or that there are not other things wrong with the program of the fish division. Obviously, this isn't the case. But there must be a perspective on the program and if the DNR has now gone too far on the salmon program it should be remembered not long ago the cry in the state was for the DNR to do more.

The coho salmon in its prime is a splendid fighting fish and despite the DDT scare still makes an excellent dinner. It should be retained in the Great Lakes, but it is not unreasonable to suggest that some moderation be used in the program. "Salmon Fever" has waned and there is no need that every Lake Michigan tributary be stocked with coho or chinook.

Instead, perhaps the department should shift its emphasis away from salmon, aiming at building the populations of brook trout, brown trout, rainbow trout, walleyes and other sports fish in the state. A great deal of hatchery space has been devoted to coho salmon rearing at the expense of other species. Shifting the dominant position away from the cohos should allow greater releases of other fish — fish which do not die after spawning.

In the past several years, the State of Michigan has released several millions of coho and chinook salmon and except for the fish still in the lake from last spring's plants all of them are dead. A dead fish doesn't provide much fishing.

A Lost Right?

A court case in Iowa has left Americans everywhere wondering if they still have the right to defend their property against criminals.

A district court in Oskaloosa, Iowa, recently awarded damages to a convicted burglar for injuries suffered when the owner tried to protect his property. The man was forced to sell part of his farm to meet court-ordered payments.

Edward Briney had a persistent problem with burglars and prowlers who repeatedly broke into a partly furnished but unoccupied house on his farm. Finally he decided to rig a trap in one of the bedrooms, consisting of a 20-gauge shotgun that would fire when the door opened.

The defense system proved to be effective. An intruder opened the bedroom door, triggering a shotgun blast that felled him.

Easily apprehended, the wounded man pleaded guilty to larceny, and the judge gave him a light fine.

Whereupon the prowler filed suit against the farmer for the injuries he had received. And the district court awarded him $30,000!

The plaintiff's attorney, predictably, argued that human rights take precedence over property rights, and the court agreed.

As a result, eighty acres of Briney's 200-acre farm went on the auction block and brought $10,000 — only partial payment of the court-awarded damages.

When interviewed by the press, Briney was almost speechless, having difficulty finding words to express his feelings upon learning that a court had said, in effect, he no longer has the right to defend his property.

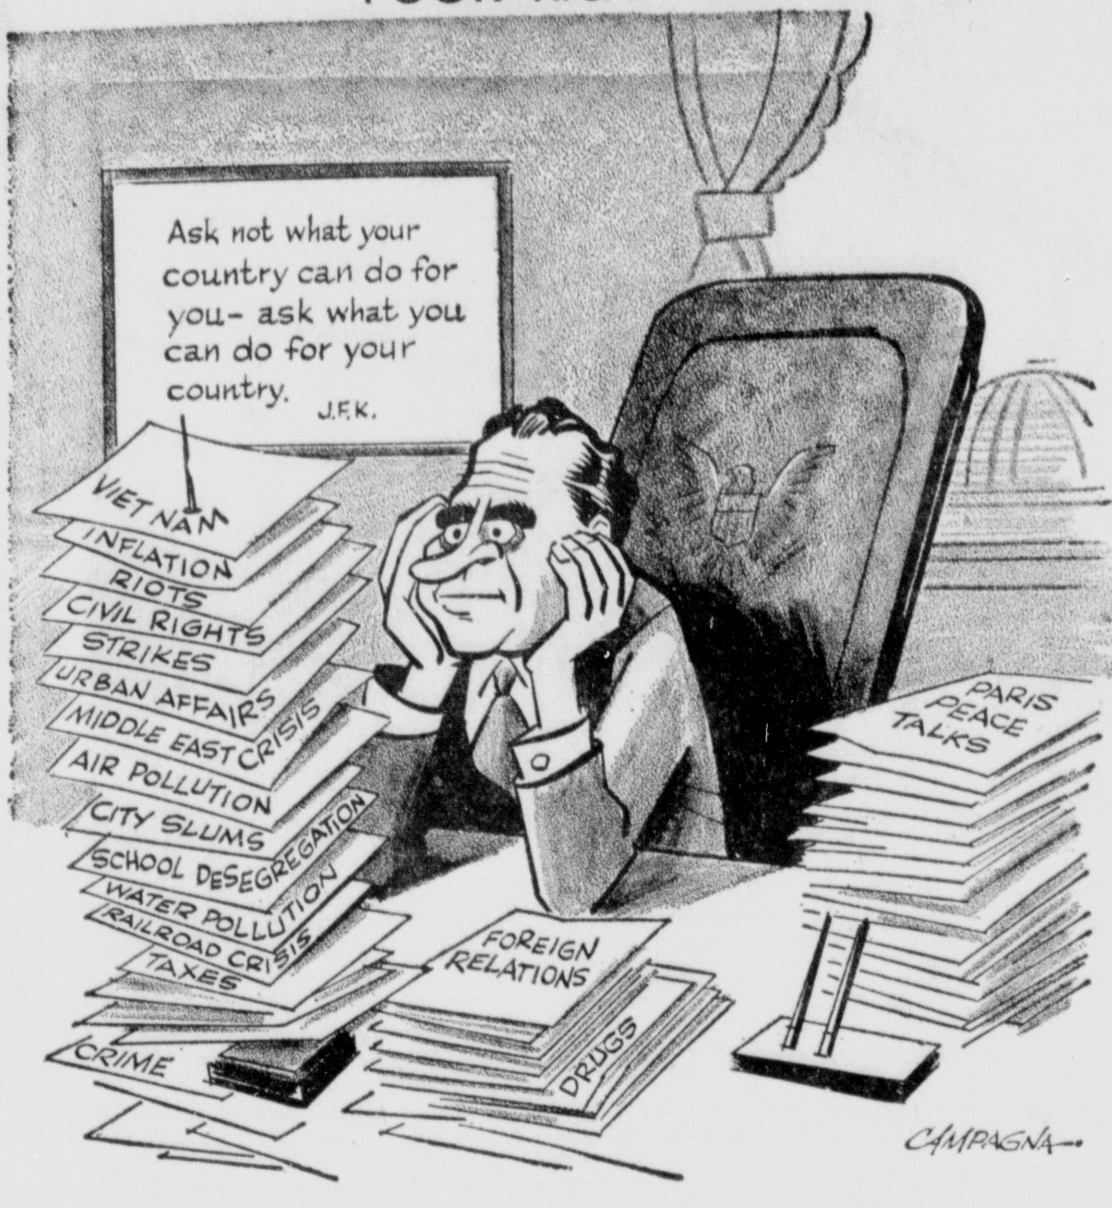

The case is now going on appeal to the Iowa Supreme Court. There, or perhaps in the federal judiciary, this wrong may be righted.

If it is not, no citizen will be safe in the possession of his property. And, in reply to the plaintiff's able lawyer, what will all of his other rights be worth then?

Laos Has No Roads, People Want No War

WASHINGTON — Growing debate over the United States role in the conflict in Laos has focused attention on the little kingdom.

The war between Royal Lao forces and the Communist Pathet Lao is waged on one side by Meo guerrillas and on the other by North Vietnamese soldiers.

Some members of the United States Congress fear a second Vietnam. Others say that while the clash is related to the fighting in neighboring Vietnam, it is unlikely that American ground troops will be committed.

Laotians Aren't Warlike
Though they live in the center of the Southeast Asian cauldron, the Laotians are a gentle and peaceable people, the National Geographic Society says.

A debate at one of the popular festivals over whether it is better to be fat or thin illustrated the Laotian temperament. To arguments that most important persons are fat, opponents countered that in case of a battle thin persons can run away faster.

The population of Laos, variously estimated at from two to three million, is composed of 22 minority groups which legend says emerged from a gourd punctured by a demigod.

Laos has no paved roads, no railroad, and few telephones. Two-thirds of its 91,428 square miles are mountainous jungle, dotted with villages averaging about 200 inhabitants.

In the monsoon months, when rains turn roads into quagmires and floods wash away wooden bridges, these villages are completely cut off.

Not surprisingly, family and tribal loyalties outweigh any sense of nationality.

Though Soviet and American arms figure prominently in the battles in Laos, many tribesmen never have heard of either nation. Some are not even aware there is a country called Laos.

Came From China
Many Laotians are descended from Thai Buddhists driven out of southern China in the 13th century by Kublai Khan. From the 14th to the 18th centuries, Laos was a powerful kingdom known as Lan Xang Hom Khao, the Land of the Million Elephants and the White Parasol.

Some Laotians still call their country Lan Xang.

Factional strife split the old kingdom, which came under French rule in 1893 and was made a protectorate six years later. Laos became independent when France withdrew in 1954, following the Indochina war.

Laos has remained divided between the Pathet Lao and the Royal Lao government ever since. In 1961 the United States began aiding Meo refugees displaced by the fighting in Laos, and later armed and trained the tribesmen as a guerrilla force.

Even if the government in Vientiane reached an accord with the Pathet Lao to halt the fighting in the north, Laos would not know peace.

The Ho Chi Minh Trail curves through southern Laos. So long as the Vietnam war continues, North Vietnamese troops can be expected to use this network of jungle trails, and the United States to bomb it.

Opening lead—two of spades.

It is generally agreed that defense is the most difficult part of the game—and this is proved time and again by the great number of hands where declarer makes a contract that could have been defeated with best defense.

Consider this deal where South is in six diamonds. West leads the deuce of spades and, after dummy plays the ten and East the king, declarer ruffs.

It would seem that South must go down one, losing a heart and a club, but, if he plays correctly, South winds up making the contract.

At trick two he enters dummy with a trump and returns the four of hearts.

What can East do? If he follows low, declarer wins with the jack, reenters dummy with a trump, and leads the queen of spades, trapping East's ace and thus avoiding a heart loser. The only trick declarer loses on this line of play is a club.

The outcome is the same if East goes up with the ace of hearts when the four is led from dummy. In that case, declarer never loses a club trick because he eventually discards two clubs on the K-Q of hearts and his other club loser on a spade.

Nevertheless, the fact remains that East can defeat the slam if he sizes up the situation perfectly and makes the extraordinary play of ducking the ten of spades at trick one!

South cannot cope with this play because, whatever he discards, the defense is bound to eventually score a heart and a club to beat the contract one trick. The duck forces South to choose a discard before he is ready for it, and it is impossible for him to make a winning choice so early in the play.

Ann Landers

Sleepwalker Does Plenty Of Traveling

Dear Ann Landers: "Why don't you travel?" inquire well meaning friends and relatives who know I am financially able to do as I please. I'm sure they are completely mystified by my refusal to take a trip. But I can't tell them the truth. I am a sleepwalker.

I wash lingerie in my sleep and am always surprised to find panties, bras and hose hanging across the shower rod in the morning.

I've written letters in my sleep and sealed the envelopes. The letters are friendly and frequently amusing. I've mailed many of these letters and when the replies come I enjoy the joke which I am unable to share with anyone.

I'd love to travel, Ann, but I'm afraid I might turn up in a hotel lobby in my nightgown—or worse. Please tell me what to do.—Suffering Somnambulist

Dear S. S.: You are worrying about a 10,000 to 1 shot. Sleepwalkers rarely do anything in their sleep that they would not do while awake. If, however, your concern is preventing you from traveling, I suggest you engage a companion or confide in a friend or relative and invite them to accompany you.

Dear Ann Landers: Several weeks ago a friend of mine had to leave town on short notice. I loved her apartment and took over her lease which expires in ten months. The apartment has two bedrooms, is ideally located and beautifully furnished. But it was too expensive for me, so I asked a girl friend if she'd like to share it. She jumped at the chance.

Now the problem: The girl is filthy as a pig. She leaves food all over the place and never hangs up a thing or puts anything in its place. But that's not the worst of it. Whenever I come home her boyfriend is here—reading the paper, watching TV or helping himself to something to eat. He has slept here several times (I'm not supposed to know this) and although I'm not a prude I don't like the neighbors to see a man leaving our apartment at 6:00 a.m.

I realize I made a mistake but I can't handle the rent alone. What should I do?—Seven Months To Go

Dear Seven: You are stuck until the lease runs out. Start looking now for another place—something you can afford alone.

Dear Ann Landers: Jerry and I were married 15 months ago. I was 17. He was 19. We went steady for two years and it was heaven. Last night Jerry told me he wants a divorce. I asked why. He said, "Because I hate being tied down. Marriage is like jail."

I've been crying all day and can't stop. My hands are so shaky I can't hold this pen. My folks were against our getting married so young. So were Jerry's. How can I face them?

I'm afraid Jerry is mixed up with a girl who works with him. She is divorced and very sexy. What can I do?—Out Of My Mind

Dear Out: From the sound of your letter I'm not optimistic about your chances to salvage the marriage. Talk to the clergyman who married you. Perhaps he can help. Are you listening, students?

Do you feel ill at ease... out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Defense Fund Setup Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The urgent appeal of the nation's largest military contractor for up to $641.2 million in federal funds exposes a breakdown in Pentagon policies that could bring the collapse of the defense industry, Sen. William Proxmire says.

The Wisconsin Democrat, a vehement critic of defense spending, said the payments requested by Lockheed Aircraft Corp., this week is "bailout money" and the decision to pay Lockheed should be made by Congress, not the military.

Lockheed reported a $32.6 million loss for 1969 and said it will have critical financial problems if the Pentagon delays payments of up to $641.2 million on four major weapons systems while disputes over the final prices of the contracts drag on. "The tragedy is that much more than the fate of a single corporation has been placed in jeopardy by the colossal failure of the Department of Defense," Proxmire said.

"Lockheed and practically every other aerospace contractor is seriously undercapitalized with net assets far below the level of its military business," he said. "It has been a mistake to concentrate so much of our defense program in the hands of a few giant contractors. . . . A continuation of present policies and practices could bring about a collapse of the defense industry with serious damage to our military security."

Letters To The Press

ON THE BALLOT

Recent statements by parochial advocates in the Daily Press, and those on television by Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, have been so misleading that they tend to lead taxpayers away from the real issue.

Instead of discussing parochialism on the basis of fiscal merit or its fairness as an aspect of a democratic society, these proponents keep repeating what they seem to believe are magic words. "It is about time we did something for ALL the children."

Well, Mr. Jacobetti, Mr. John Payant, and whoever else has been chanting these magic words, have you considered the fact that we have been doing something for ALL the children. It is something called the public school system (the best school system in the whole world).

Since this is a free society, those who choose not to send their children to this system have the right to organize and operate their own schools. They also have the responsibility to support those schools.

Where do the parochial proponents get the audacity to proclaim that the taxpayer should pay for their private project?

They claim they are paying double for the education of their children. Well, that comes with their desire to send their children to a school other than that provided by the state. It is their right and also their responsibility.

These people claim their position is unfair, and so they have devised a plan (parochialism being only a small part of it).

What does this plan do? It simply reverses the situation and puts the person who sends his children to the public schools, into the position of paying double. There is a difference, however. He does not have the choice of quitting. He is forced to pay double, by the state, through his taxes.

That, taxpayer, is the lofty plan that is being so effectively crammed down your throat with the cry, "Let's do something for all the children." I wrong to begin with and over think it about time these private interests got their hands out of the taxpayers' pockets and began carrying the load for their own project.

When you hear the cry, "It's for ALL the children," you might inform the criers that the state provides a very good school system for their children, and that despite the rumors they are spreading, the public schools WILL absorb the private school children at far less cost than that of parochial and its related programs — busing, books, hot lunch, and all the existing precedents they claim for parochialism.

After all the tax money spent to consolidate the public schools, are we now going to take a step backward and support two school systems?

Let's get this parochial issue on the ballot where all the people will have their say, not just those representatives who would put their private interests ahead of the interests of their constituents.

DEER AND FISH

Joe Vogt, game biologist of the Department of Natural Resources, met with the public and the U. P. Game Protection Association at the Escanaba Civic Center on February 26.

One question that kept popping up was the method in which the DNR arrived at its dead deer count in the woods each spring. Mr. Vogt stated that an independent source of 214 men checked 65 plots covering 1,700 miles in 10 days, and they came up with 27 dead deer; this then with their "x" factor amounted to 20,000 dead deer in 1969 in the U. P.

When we break this down it amounts to 8 miles per man over a span of 10 days or eight-tenths of a mile a day in search of dead deer.

This last dead deer census was taken in 1962 and this is what the U. P. Game Protection Association is up in arms about along with their pellet survey. We contend that this count could be 50 per cent wrong to begin with and over a period of eight years, since the last independent census, we are in serious trouble with the doe season and a vanishing deer herd.

We, the U. P. Game Protection Association, respectfully request that there be a moratorium on doe season for at least two years.

Cliff Long, of the fish division of the DNR, did not make it to the meeting and we were disappointed, to say the least.

Due to our geographic location, the citizens of the U. P. are being cheated out of the right to buy fresh whitefish and perch because the DNR banned gill nets on Big and Little Bays de Noc, while Wisconsin, Indiana, and all our neighbors to the south can harvest our fish commercially, and we are denied that same right.

We could believe the DNR in banning gill nets if Wisconsin and our neighbors to the south were also banned, but we think that Michigan's DNR is determined to make this a nation-wide tourist state and therefore they plant salmon that grow to a tremendous size in a short time and this will lure thousands of tourists to Michigan and the U. P.

I wish that all the people could witness what we have seen this past week up at the "Hayward" and on the Whitefish River. Hundreds of rotting salmon are polluting this river and this spring you won't be able to stand the smell of these trash salmon that die after they spawn.

We, the U. P. Game Protection Association, are on record as opposed to any more planting of coho and this includes the 100,000 they are going to plant in the near future in the east and west branches of the Whitefish River.

We think it's a dirty shame that brook, brown and rainbow trout cannot be planted instead, and the Health Dept. should look into these rotting coho. Appropriate steps should be taken to resolve this situation in the Whitefish River.

There's No Cheap Ride On Anti-Pollution Bandwagon

By CLINT DUNATHAN

From the gasping ghetto to the rarified editorial columns of the Wall Street Journal the word is control—pollution control.

The anti-pollution forces have exploded into a forceful crusade for a cleaner America, in the air, on water and land. Students on campuses across the country find that here's something with which they can identify without being called on to throw stones at the establishment.

Of the need for improved living conditions the Wall Street Journal comments:

"Businesses should be urged to participate in the construction of new cities, to develop systems and products that will be required for quality in urban living and, of course, to vigorously pursue pollution control."

"Suddenly, the entire country has climbed aboard the bandwagon," notes the Detroit News. Government is joining—sometimes spearheading—the pollution control effort.

In the end, of course, the people of America will have to pay for a cleaner America. Clean-up by cities, industries, and individuals costs money. There will be higher taxes for this purpose at all levels and in the prices people pay for things produced by industries involved in cleaning their part of the pollution picture.

For a quick look around the Escanaba area and what's being done to make this a better (or at least not a worse) place in which to live, here's a listing of what's going on:

• City of Escanaba — Here the largest and most expensive project is the correction of water and sewage problems. The total cost is estimated at $6-700,000 of which slightly more than 50 per cent would come from state and federal funds. The city's share will be financed by revenue bonding, paid off by raising water and

$300 Million

To escalate the war on pollution in Michigan, industries and government will spend an estimated $300 million in 1970.

Most of this expenditure will be in metropolitan areas like Detroit and Flint. One of the major outlays will be by automobile manufacturing firms.

Nationally we will have to spend an estimated $25 billion to return lakes and streams to an acceptable level of quality, reports the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration.

the abandonment of the asphalt plant by next fall; and correction of a fly-ash problem at the city electric generating plant.

• Harnischfeger — Environmental pollution is not a major problem in the field of heavy manufacturing as it exists at the Harnischfeger Corp. in Escanaba; therefore major expenditures for the sole purpose of pollution control have not been required.

Some areas where reduction or elimination of pollutants are underway include:

Reduction of sulfur and ash emissions from heating systems by converting from oil to natural gas; reduction of air pollution resulting from spray painting operation by installation of "water wash" system; gas shielded arc welding processes to replace stick electrode process to reduce solid particles emissions.

"Where pollution problems have become apparent, we have voluntarily taken corrective action," said John A. Moore, manager employee relations, Construction Equipment Plant, Escanaba.

• Escanaba Paper Co.—This wholly-owned subsidiary of the Mead Corp. is investing more than $100 million in the development of a new publishing papers center in Wells Township.

O. C. Christensen, manager, reports Mead has "extensive plans for environmental control — plans without precedent in the paper industry, which will adequately protect three great Upper Peninsula resources, air, water, and forests."

The Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission is being asked by Mead for a permit to construct a kraft pulp mill. Target date for the pulp mill completion and operation is now early 1972. The capacity of the plant would indicate an investment in the $50 million range; and as yet no figure has been reported on the cost of air pollution control, which will consist of pollution control devices the Mead Corp. says will have the effect of "pinpointing odor and stopping it."

The firm reports that it has an investment of $8 million in water treatment facilities alone. Water treatment equipment now in operation is valued at $2 million and Mead has committed an additional $6 million for enlargement of the facilities to meet requirements of all phases of the publishing papers center.

• City and State — Boats operating on Great Lakes Waters in Michigan (and also in Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana) this year can no longer empty their toilets into the lake. They must retain waste aboard for pumping out at approved disposal stations on shore.

To provide such a station at Escanaba, the city in cooperation with the Michigan Water Resources Commission is sponsoring a pumping facility at the yacht basin. The cost will be $3,000 and one-half will be paid by the state.

• Chicago & North Western Railway — An iron dust pollution control system that will cost up to $600,000 is being designed by R. F. Weston Co., Westchester, Pa., an environmental science firm.

The dust problem became apparent when the Railway's new ore handling and storage facility was put into operation in the spring of 1969. There is also a problem relating to fumes from the operation of diesel locomotives.

W. H. Huffman, Chicago, the C&NW assistant vice president and chief engineer, advised the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission last November that:

"With the timetable I have received, it appears to me we are talking about a period of not less than eight to 10 months before it (dust control) is installed."

In Lansing on March 17 at 1:30 p.m. the Air Pollution Control Commission will hear a report from the North Western "reviewing progress toward control of dust emanating from their operation in Escanaba."

Social Security Checks Valued At $70,000 Gone

MARQUETTE — About 700 monthly Social Security checks for Marquette area residents with a minimum value of $70,000, apparently have been lost, John Blomstrom, Marquette Social Security office Manager said Thursday.

The missing checks represent half the number received here monthly. Blomstrom said they should have been mailed out of Chicago.

Blomstrom said it was possible that the checks were not issued for some reason, or that they could have been misplaced by the treasury, or that the mailbag containing them could be lost.

Blomstrom said names of those not receiving checks must be obtained before his office could begin procedures to obtain new ones.

Veep Chuckles Over 'Snob' Pin

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa. (AP) — A high school senior says it was his pin saying "Hi, I'm an Effete Intellectual Snob" that broke the ice in his chance conversation with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Terry Specht, senior class president at Mount Pleasant Area High School, told of the meeting which occurred last week while he was in Washington for the Presidential Classroom for Young Americans program.

"I was walking past his (Agnew's) office in the Senate building," Specht said. "He saw my badge, the one that designated me as a student representative, and asked me to come in. I was also wearing a pin which read, 'Hi, I'm an Effete Intellectual Snob.'"

"The vice president laughed," Specht said and commented, "So you're one of those." He asked me if I was offended by his remark on television and I told him I was at first but it later amused me.

"I addressed him as 'Mr. Vice President' and he said, 'Call me Spiro.' I asked him if he was doing the dirty work for President Nixon and he said that he believed he may be doing the dirty work for the whole nation."

To Open Bids

LANSING (AP) — The State Aeronautics Commission reports it will open bids next Thursday on the start of construction of a new airport at Cheboygan, to cost $500,000. The airport will be located on the original site of the Pellston Airport.

Farmers' Week Offers Variety For Women

EAST LANSING — What can a woman get from a week for farmers?

Plenty. She can find help for redeveloping a landscape, information on food shopping and meat selection, art exhibits and creative art demonstrations. She can learn from films about ecology, population problems, drugs and water pollution.

Today's woman is concerned about all these things, whether she's from a rural or an urban area. And she'll find them all covered during Farmers' Week, an annual event to be held Monday, March 23, through Friday, March 27, at Michigan State University.

All women's programs are scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Wells Hall near the MSU stadium. Most of the program runs continuously from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. These include exhibits of town and country art, student art, contemporary crafts, and the food and nutrition exhibit on snacks.

Special demonstrations of creativity are scheduled from 10 a. m. to noon each day. Local artists will demonstrate weaving, painting, pottery and stitching.

While the food buying information center is open continuously, a special program on meats will be from 2 to 4 p. m. on Wednesday only. He'll give ideas on stretching the budget and improving outdoor barbecues.

Lady Postal Worker Wants To Be Umpire

TROY, Mich. (AP) — Eunice Boboltz says men don't have a corner on anything but the men's room.

The 24-year-old Royal Oak postal worker has enrolled with 32 men in an umpiring class at Troy High School.

"I think the only place a girl shouldn't be in is the men's room," she says when asked if she feels out of place. She was the only woman in the class and says "I liked the odds."

Eunice grew up at Ossineke, a farm community near Alpena. Because of a lack of facilities, she was attracted to baseball and is now a pretty good fastpitch softball player.

"There weren't any tennis courts, swimming pools or the like around there so it was play ball or nothing at all," she said. "Oh, there was a stream nearby that we swam in occasionally, but the bloodsuckers were so bad that I liked playing ball better."

She was prompted to join the class because, she said, some of the umpiring of girls' games didn't exactly suit her.

Is she ready for work? "I don't know why not," she replies. "I'm not saying I'd like to work in girls' leagues. . . might even coach a team. Sure, I could officiate a man's game. Men are good sports and they play good ball. I really don't see any difference. . . the rules are the same for men and girls."

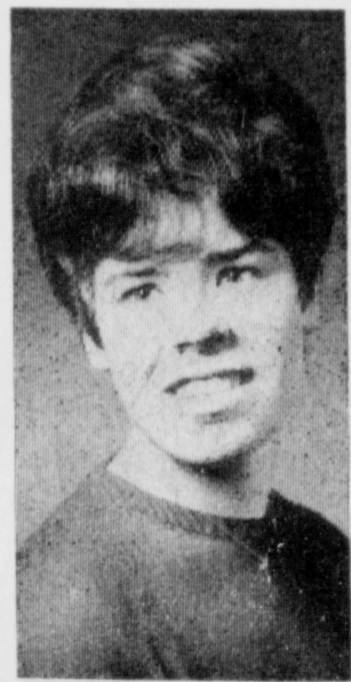

But there may be a catch. "I don't know if anyone would consider hiring me. I doubt if they'd tell me right out they wouldn't hire me—they couldn't because of the law."

"But then I may not pass the class and that's something else again."

Pistons Beaten; Rally Falls Short

By The Associated Press

For the Detroit Pistons, it was one of the greatest comebacks in the National Basketball Association this season, but... That little old word "but" still haunts the Pistons, as they rallied from 23 points behind to almost catch, but then lost to the Milwaukee Bucks Friday, 121-118.

Ployed before a 9,000-member home crowd, the Pistons staged a comeback with the sharp-shooting of Dave Bing and Jimmy Walker to pull within 117-116 of a tie with 24 seconds to go. Then two free throws by Milwaukee's Guy Rodgers and a basket by Don Smith provided the Bucks with their insurance goals.

In other NBA games, the New York Knicks downed San Diego 107-103; Philadelphia bombed Boston 150-134; Baltimore stopped Los Angeles 105-100; San Francisco thumped Phoenix 107-97 and Seattle trimmed Cincinnati 126-102.

In the American Basketball Association, New York squeezed past Pittsburgh 104-103; Indiana beat Miami 119-116; Carolina downed Dallas 98-94, and Los Angeles whipped Kentucky 126-102.

Low Alcindor, who had 38 points for the night, and John McGlocklin, who had 16, paced Milwaukee to the third quarter spurt. It looked like a runaway until the Pistons came charging back in the final period. Milwaukee had a 93-73 lead after three quarters. Bing had 42 points for Detroit.

The victory assured Milwaukee at least a tie for second place in the East Division.

Red-hot Dave DeBusschere made his season-high of 30 points as the New York Knicks edged San Diego. The victory reduced New York's title clinching number to four.

The 76ers built a 88-69 third quarter lead and held off the Celtics, who managed to close to within seven points. Hal Greer scored 30 points for Philadelphia while Billy Cunningham added 29. Jo Jo White had 26 for the Celtics.

The Bulls rallied from seven points down with seven minutes to go, led by Earl Monroe. Monroe connected for 29 points, 12 in the final period. Jerry West had 35 for the Lakers, who slipped two games behind West leader Atlanta.

The Warriors broke a seven-game losing string on key baskets by Dave Gambee and Bob Portman. Gambee hit for six points and Portman eared in the closing minutes. Clyde Lee was high for San Francisco with 23 points while Connie Hawkins had 27 for the Suns.

Player-coach Lenny Wilkens scored 10 points in the final two minutes for Seattle's triumph. Wilkens finished with 20 points while Dick Snyder had a career high 33 points as the Sonics moved into a virtual tie for third place in the West with their seventh consecutive triumph. Tom Van Arsdale had 26 for the Royals.

The 1971 USGA Amateur golf championship is listed for the Wilmington, Del., Country Club's south course.

Southern Cal Hands UCLA Second Defeat Of Season

By The Associated Press

Southern Cal did it again. Just as a year ago the Trojans upset UCLA, the nation's top-ranked college basketball team 87-86 Friday night and like last year, they did it on UCLA's home court in Pauley Pavilion.

Coming on the eve of the opening of the NCAA championship tournament the defeat of UCLA, the Bruins' second of the season, may be an ill omen for St. Bonaventure, Notre Dame, Pennsylvania and Jacksonville in the NCAA as well as for South Carolina in the Atlantic Coast Conference final today.

Southern Cal wiped out a 15-point deficit in the second half at 66-53 to storm from behind and beat the Bruins. George Watson's 15-foot jumper tied it at 83-83 with 2½ minutes left and Joe Mackey's 12-foot jumper at the two-minute mark put the Trojans ahead to stay.

Recalling the stall Clemson used in losing to South Carolina 34-33 Thursday, Johnny Wooden, coach of UCLA, said "I suppose we could have sat on our 13-point lead, but that's not our style of play."

"I thought our loss to Oregon two weeks ago was good for us," added Wooden, who earlier on Friday had been named the Coach of the Year for 1970 by The Associated Press.

"But I don't know about this one," Wooden continued, "I guess we'll find out in 24 hours." He referred to UCLA's game with Southern Cal again tonight on the Trojans' home court in the Sports Arena.

Wooden said the Trojans' tight man-to-man defense "that sagged in the middle beat us. We lost our momentum, but not our poise."

Bob Boyd, the Trojan coach, said he put 6-foot-8 Watson in the game "because of his quickness and his size. He matches up well with the Bruin front line."

Mackey was high scorer for the Trojans with 20 points. Henry Bibby topped UCLA with 22, 18 of them in the first half when UCLA held a 51-41 lead.

South Carolina thrashed Wake Forest 79-63 and North Carolina State shaded Virginia 67-66 on Nick Anheuser's layup with 42 seconds left in the semifinals of the ACC championship at Charlotte.

South Carolina's star, John Roche, suffered a severe sprained left ankle in the second half, a mishap that may handicap the third-ranked Gamecocks in the ACC final against the Wolfpack with an NCAA tourney berth going to the winner.

Fourth-ranked St. Bonaventure, with big Bob Lanier, goes

Tourney Drought Ended With 59-41 Win Friday

By MIKE UTT

GLADSTONE — Over the years, the Holy Name Crusaders have not really been regarded as a tournament team, but someone forgot to relay that information to this year's squad, which claimed the Class B district crown at the Gladstone High School gym Friday night with a 59-41 victory over the Manistique Emeralds.

The victory gave the Crusaders their first district championship since the 1962 season and sends them to Marquette next week for the regional tournament, where they will meet the Negaunee Miners on Friday night. Negaunee was a 66-56 victor over Gwinn in the Class B district finals at Negaunee last night.

Manistique, which came into the game with a 2-14 season record, stunned the Crusaders early in the game by holding on to the ball and taking only a layup or nothing. After Manistique broke out to a 3-0 lead, the Crusaders finally scored at the 3:17 mark of the first quarter and followed that with three more field goals to take on 8-3 lead before the Emeralds came back to within one point, 8-7, at the end of the period on a pair of field goals by Dave Mickelson.

Tom Jenerou put Manistique back on top with a field goal in the opening moments of the second quarter, but Bob McGinn gave Holy Name the lead again with a 15-foot jump shot and Bill Skradski put them ahead by three with another field goal. Mickelson scored twice for Manistique and Joe Harvey once for Holy Name before the Crusaders took a 19-13 lead late in the period on a field goal by Skradski and a three point play by Dan Young. Each team scored again before half-time and Holy Name took a 21-14 lead into the dressing room.

Holy Name broke out to a 26-18 margin early in the third period before Manistique came back to score seven straight points to bring the score to 26-25 at the 4:24 mark. Holy Name's Steve Kleiman soon remedied that situation with two quick field goals and the Crusaders were off and running again. Some great ball handling against the Manistique press ignited the Crusaders to a 40-28 advantage as the two teams headed into the final period of play.

Skradski started the fourth quarter off with a pair of free throws. McGinn hit another field goal and Skradski came back with a three-point play to send the Crusaders off to a 47-3 lead before the Emeralds could score again. The closest Manistique could get from then on was 12 points and Holy Name easily wrapped up the district title.

Young paced the Crusader attack with 19 points, while Skradski chipped in with 13 and McGinn had 10 in the low-scoring contest.

Gary Webber led the Emeralds with 16 points and Mickelson finished the night with 11.

From the field, Holy Name was 23 of 65 for 37 per cent and Manistique hit on 17 of 55 attempts for 31 per cent. The Crusaders were 13 of 23 from the charity stripe, while the Emeralds were just seven of 15.

The Crusaders also held a 43-30 edge on the boards, as Kleiman pulled down 16 and Harvey 13 to lead the way.

The victory left the Crusaders with a 14-4 mark as they head into regional play next week. Other Class B regional participants will be winners of tonight's Menominee - Kingsford and West Iron County-Calumet contests.

Rangers Suffer Another Defeat

By The Associated Press

A trade they made 2½ years ago came back to haunt the slumping New York Rangers Friday night.

Battling to catch first place Boston in the torrid five-team National Hockey League East Division race, the Rangers dropped their third straight game, 3-1 to St. Louis.

In the only other NHL game played, Chicago edged Oakland 3-2 on Stan Mikita's third period goal, his 37th of the season.

The winning goals by the Blues were scored in the third period by Gary Sabourin and Tim Eccelstone, both formerly property of the Rangers.

Sabourin and Eccelstone were traded along with two other players to the blues shortly after the expansion draft in June, 1967, in exchange for defenseman Rod Seiling, who had been claimed by St. Louis from New York. Ironically, the goat on both of Friday night's third period goals was Seiling.

First, Sabourin eluded the Ranger defenseman and out-raced goalie Ed Giacomin to the puck to score in the vacated net, breaking a 1-1 tie. Then Eccelstone raced by Seiling, who fell down, and beat Giacomin on a rising shot.

The loss stretched the Rangers' winless streak to five games. The Rangers remain one point back of idle Boston in the East race.

But Chicago's victory moved

Big Ten Keeps No-Repeat Rule

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten will continue its no-repeat Rose Bowl policy despite the furors caused last football season before Michigan ended a sticky situation by upsetting top-ranked Ohio State.

In a quiet closing session of their March meetings Friday, faculty representatives and athletic directors briefly discussed but took no action on the Conference rule which prohibits the same school from making two successive Rose Bowl trips.

The group heard a petition by Wisconsin to permit the Milwaukee Bucks to use the Badger fieldhouse at Madison, Wis., if a playoff site emergency develops for the National Basketball Association club.

Commissioner Bill Reed said a decision would be announced Saturday on whether the Conference policy against use of facilities by pro contenders would be relaxed for the Bucks.

Last year, the Conference amended its rule to permit relief action if pro clubs are caught in a bind by conflicts such as baseball playoffs overlapping the start of the pro football season.

The Bucks reportedly cannot use their home base, the Milwaukee arena, for NBA playoffs because of previous arena commitments.

Big Bay Bombs Paradise To Claim District Title

ENGADINE — Big Bay de Noe's Black Bears roamed the hardwood at will Friday night and came home with a trophy after clawing the Paradise Rockets, 117-37 for the Class D District Championship.

It was Big Bay's 19th victory of the season against a single defeat and sends the fourth-rated state power into regional warfare next Wednesday at Cheboygan against the winner of tonight's Cheboygan Catholic-Inland Lakes contest.

The Black Bears rolled up 33 points in the first quarter while the Rockets could only muster 12. Bill Hartman and Dave Hardwick led the assault for the Bears with nine and eight points respectively.

Subbing frequently throughout the contest, Dave Pelletier's Black Bears continued to bomb the nets in the second quarter by outscoring the Paradise quint 29-8 and taking a commanding 62-20 lead into the locker room at the half.

The Black Bears keep up their hot pace in the third period by sizzling the nets for 32 more points while holding the Rockets to 11. With all 12 players scoring the Black Bears continued to clobber the Rockets in the final quarter by holding a 23-6 scoring edge in coasting to the District Championship.

Big Bay, with each player in the game for the same amount of time shot a blistering 55 per cent for the evening from the field, making 51 out of 95 attempts.

Hartman, one of the leading scorers in the area this season with 370 points in 16 games and a 23.1 average, led the Big Bay attack with 20 points, while Hardwick added 17 and John Lewandowski and Herb Pomeroy 14 apiece. Wayne Clement also hit in double figures with 10 points.

Pirates Romp Over Bengals

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Detroit Tiger bats found hitting distasteful Friday and that made for a very sour Grapefruit League season baseball opener.

The Tigers managed just three hits in losing to the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-1, but weak bats can't take all the blame.

Tiger pitcher John Hiller, considered as a possible fifth starter this season, was bombed for four runs and six hits in his three innings on the mound. Les Cain allowed one run and three hits in the next three innings.

Fred Patek, the Pirates' 5-foot-4 shortstop, led off the first inning with a line single, the first of 11 Pittsburgh hits, as the Bucs headed toward a 4-1 first inning lead.

It looked more like Pittsburgh would be in trouble at the start. Shortstop Cesar Gutierrez doubled in the opening inning and a single by Jim Northrup produced Detroit's run. But then the only Tiger hit the rest of the way was a double by Ike Brown in the fifth.

Steve Blass, Dock Ellis and Bob Veale were the pitchers who handcuffed Detroit, each hurling three innings.

Rookie Bill Gilbreth pitched one inning for Detroit and gave up a run, while Gary Taylor, another rookie finished up with a hitless inning.

Gopher Skaters Win League Title

By The Associated Press

Minnesota collected its first Western Collegiate Hockey Association championship since the 1953-54 season when the Gophers skated to a 6-4 win over Michigan Friday night.

In another WCHA game, Wisconsin blanked Michigan State 5-0. Mick Antonechic, top Gopher scorer this season, paced two assists while Don Deeks scored twice for Michigan.

The win gave Minnesota a 20-9-0 season record and an 18-7-0 WCHA mark. Michigan's record is now 13-15-0 overall and 10-13-0 in the conference.

Wisconsin got its second consecutive shutout by beating Michigan State.

Wisconsin is now 11-10 in WCHA and Michigan is 10-11.

Palmer Charges To Citrus Lead

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — He didn't miss a fairway. He didn't miss a green. He didn't miss a makable putt.

It was Arnold Palmer doing his thing, playing this game of golf as only he can play it.

He was grinning and groaning, gesturing and grimacing, and — of course — hitching at his pants in that characteristic way of his.

And the gallery ate it up, whooping and shouting and stampeding over the Rio Pinar Country Club course and imploring the game's greatest drawing card with cries of "Charge, Annie, Charge."

And he did, flying home on a string of birdies to an eight-under-par 64 that gave him the lead Friday in the rain-delayed first round of the Florida Citrus Invitational.

The score was Arnold's best in almost three years and set a tournament record, but it gave him only a one stroke lead over Dick Crawford, a non-winner in five years on the tour but the

Yank Attache Kidnap Victim In Guatemala

GUATEMALA (AP) — A group of rebel terrorists held the labor attaché of the U.S. Embassy in Guatemala today and demanded release of four jailed guerrillas in exchange for his freedom.

Six gunmen kidnaped Sean M. Holly, 40, as he drove to the embassy Friday. Hours later, the Rebel Armed Forces (FAR) gave the government 48 hours, until 2:30 p.m. Sunday, to free the imprisoned revolutionaries.

Road Blocked
Police said Holly's station wagon was forced to stop by the armed men, who had blocked the road through the southern section of the capital with two cars. The diplomat was ordered at gunpoint into one of the two cars.

One of the four guerrillas whose freedom is demanded by the FAR is Jose Manuel Aguirre Monzon, a student arrested this week after he played the role of an intermediary in the release of a leftist student leader in exchange for kidnaped Foreign Minister Alberto Fuentes Mohr.

Mohr Also Kidnaped
Fuentes Mohr was abducted by gunmen and released 28 hours later when the government agreed to allow the student leader free passage to asylum in Mexico.

The three other captives whose freedom the FAR demanded in exchange for Holly's are Jose A. Sierra, Leonel del Cid and a woman, Vildalina Antonieta Monzon. The Monzons were arrested March 3, del Cid March 1 and Sierra Feb. 27.

Father Of Five
Holly, who comes from New York City, is married and the father of five boys, ranging in age from 5 to 11. He has been in Guatemala since July 1968. He joined the diplomatic service in 1957 after four years in the Air Force. He has worked previously in Panama, Mexico, the Netherlands and India.

An American ambassador to Guatemala, John Gordon Mein, was assassinated by machine gunners in August 1968 in a mid-afternoon ambush just a few blocks from the scene of a similar attack which had taken the lives of two American military officers the previous January.

Terrorism from both the extreme right and left has torn Guatemala in recent years, and last Sunday's presidential and congressional election was preceded by a string of violent incidents capped by the kidnap of the foreign minister.

Release Names Of Some POWs

By The Associated Press
The names of 27 American prisoners of war held by North Vietnam have been announced by Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme and two American organizations.

The Swedish Foreign Office named 14 American airmen who it said were identified by Hanoi after a series of Swedish requests.

Cora Weiss, cochairman of the antiwar Committee of Liaison with Families of Servicemen Detained in Vietnam, said Friday in New York that Hanoi had verified the captivity of 14 men whose families had asked the committee for help.

In Dallas, Tex., a spokesman for United We Stand, an organization set up by Texas billionaire H. Ross Perot to establish communication with the North Vietnamese about American prisoners, identified three American prisoners.

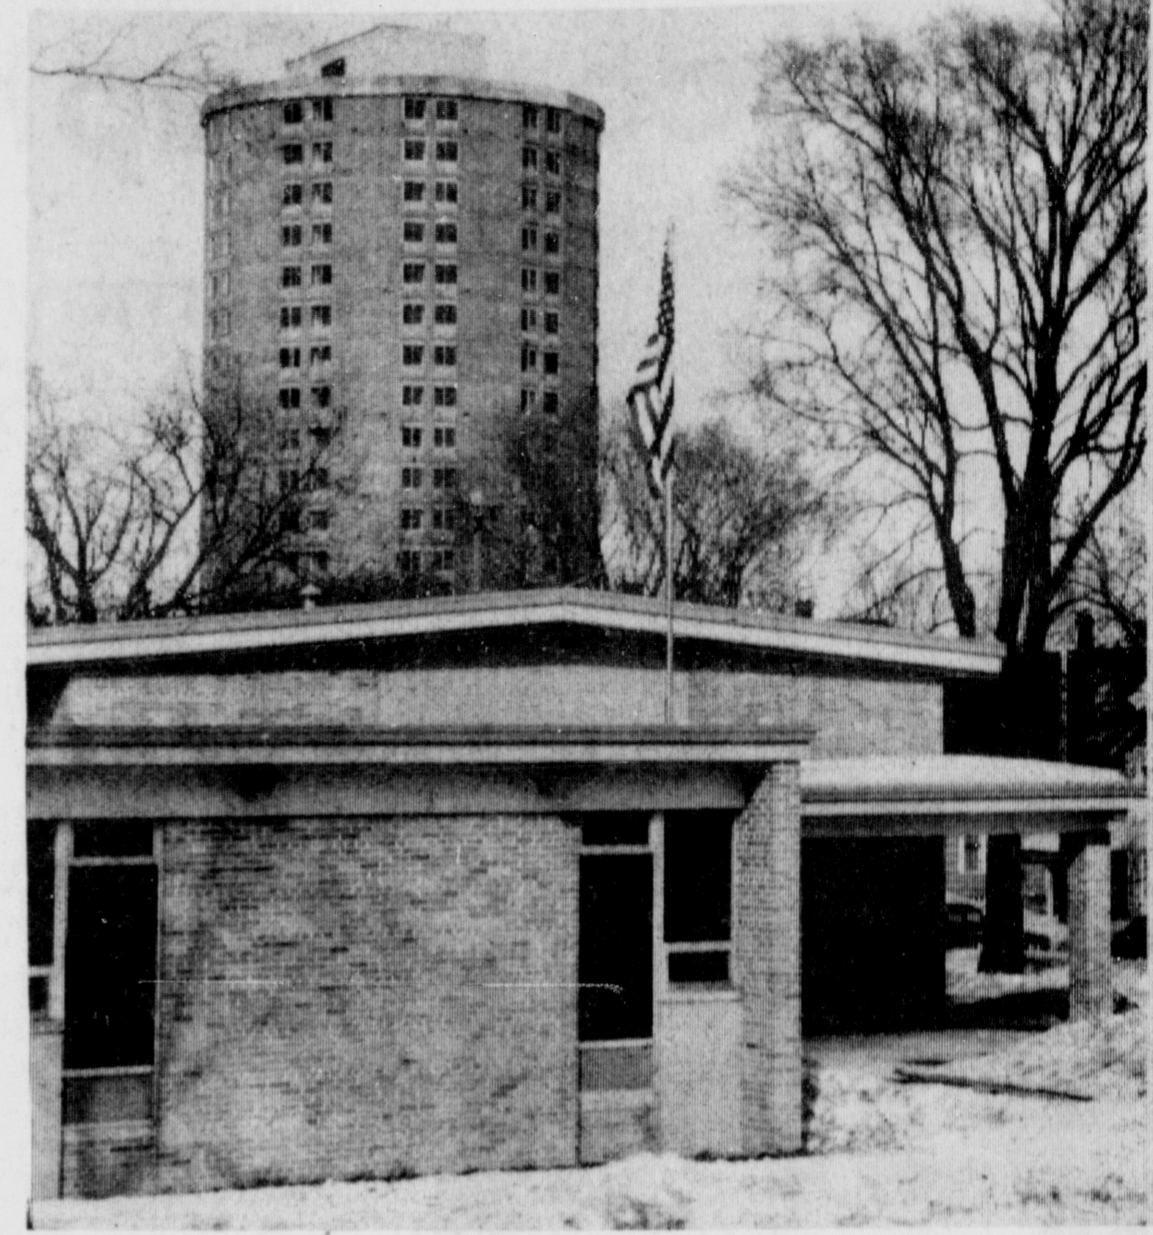

The number of prisoners identified totaled 27 because one of the men of Mrs. Weiss' list and the three men on the United We Stand list were identical with names on the Palme list.

"I'm gratified, very relieved and happy. It's always a relief to hear something definite from the other side — the North Vietnamese," said Mrs. Weiss. Alan P. Lurie of Apple Valley, Calif., upon being notified her husband was one of those said to be alive.

Mrs. Lurie said it was the first word she had received since Lurie was shot down over North Vietnam 3½ years ago. The mother of another of the men named, John Hellig of North Miami Beach, Fla., said, "This is the first official word we have had about our son. The Navy told us he was missing in action in 1966, but there was never any confirmation from Hanoi before."

Despite repeated appeals by the U.S. government North Vietnam has never released a list of men it holds prisoner. However, reports have previously come from other sources.

Water Shortage Hits Chassell Senior Citizens Interviewed For Tower Housing

CHASSELL — Residents of Chassell have been urged to limit their use of water and to continue boiling water for drinking because of a water shortage which resulted in the failure of chlorination facilities.

Cletus Courchaine of Escanaba, engineer for the State Health Dept., said emergency chlorination facilities owned by the Health Dept. have been installed at an auxiliary spring until normal operation of the water supply can be restored, but recommended residents continue to boil drinking water until further notice because control of the emergency facilities is difficult.

Officials of the health department and the Northern Michigan Water Co. said the water shortage developed from unusual conditions in the area, including lower than normal precipitation during the past several months.

Harry D. Bennetts, vice president and general manager of the water company, said the main spring is producing only a fraction of its normal capacity.

Average water use exceeds 60,000 gallons per day.

Bennetts said 800 feet of two-inch pipe has been installed to a second spring to augment the supply, but that it will be some time because an adequate supply is produced.

The Copper Country Dairy has been supplying water at no cost to the Chassell schools, delivering 50 half-gallon containers per day.

TV 'Investigator' Taken By Death
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — William Hopper, who played Perry Mason's fast-moving investigator Paul Drake on television for eight years, has died at 55.

Spokesmen said he succumbed to pneumonia Friday in a hospital where he had been treated since suffering a stroke Feb. 14.

Hopper, the son of the late Hollywood columnist Hedda Hopper, got his first film part in 1936 in "Sissy" with Grace Moore.

3 Drown, Body Found In Saginaw River

BAY CITY (AP)—Three persons drowned and the body of a woman missing almost two years was found in a series of bizarre events on the icy Saginaw River late Friday.

While searching for the car in which Mrs. Betty VanOchten, 42, of Bay City, and her father and a daughter plunged to their deaths, authorities discovered the body of Mrs. Sandra Beson, 25, also of Bay City, in her car on the river bottom.

Two Van Ochten children, Timothy, 13, and Debbie, 12, were rescued by two young men who saw their vehicle speed off a boat launching ramp and into the river.

Mrs. Beson was reported missing May 5, 1968, and had been the subject of a widespread search.

Besides Mrs. Van Ochten, there in her car who perished were her 10-year-old daughter, Susan, and her 75-year-old father, Raymond Daige, also of Bay City. Mrs. Van Ochten was a divorcee.

Marshall Bennett, 19, and Alexander Baldwin, 28, who were parked nearby, estimated the Van Ochten car was going 50 miles an hour when it swerved on to the ramp from John F. Kennedy Drive in Veterans Memorial Park about 5 p.m.

Bennett rescued Timothy and Baldwin Debbie. A third witness, Terry Bond, was dispatched in Bennett's car to seek help.

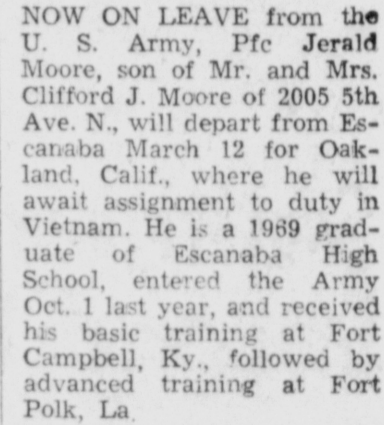

"When it hit the water," Bennett said, "the car stayed up, a couple of minutes. Then somebody kicked a door open and everybody began to scream. The back began sinking fast."

While seeking the Van Ochten car, authorities located a car containing Mrs. Beson, who had been reported under emotional strain when she disappeared. The river twice had been dragged in search of her car.

Miss America Coming
There are 176 units in the tower apartment building, which is being built at a cost of $2,600,000 by the developers, Blumenfeld & Rakita, Milwaukee, to turn over to the Housing Commission when it is completed. The responsibility of the Housing Commission, therefore, is to approve applications in number to fill the building, selecting those most in need of low income housing.

However, said Gannon, there will be vacancies occurring in the years ahead and persons who are approaching age 62 and otherwise think they qualify may make application now for housing in the future.

The tower will be dedicated by Miss America (Pamela Anne Eldred) of Michigan in ceremonies scheduled for July 13, and the first occupants will move in some time in late summer.

President Signs Education Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has written an end to a long battle with Congress over education spending by signing into law a $19.4 billion money bill for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

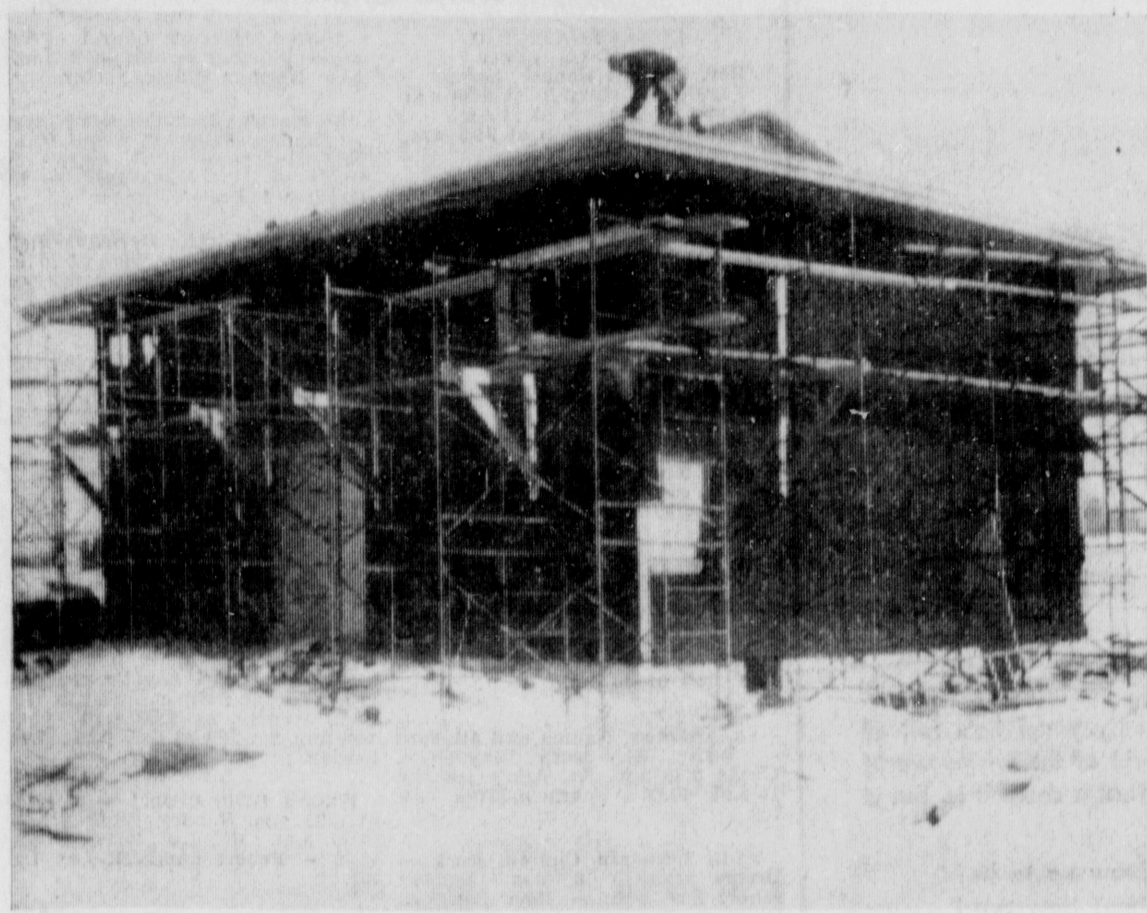

Nixon signed the bill at Key Biscayne, Fla., Friday although it still was $680 million over his budget. The measure contains a provision allowing him to withhold 2 per cent of the money.

Congress stipulated that the President could not cut any one item by more than 15 per cent. Nixon vetoed the original appropriations version, a $19.7 billion measure he branded as inflationary. Congress had added about $1 billion more for education aid than he wanted.

The House upheld Nixon's veto.

Housing Units 50% Completed

Work on Manistique's 25-unit low income housing project is about 50 per cent completed and should be ready for occupancy sometime late in the fall. The project is being constructed on N. Maple St. and was begun last October. Project approval from the Department of Housing and Urban Development was received by the city last September and bids were awarded in September. Estimated cost is $516,000.

When completed, the project will boast 10 duplex and five single dwelling units, including 18-three bedroom units, two two-bedroom and five four-bedroom units.

All of the units will have built-in kitchen cabinets, ranges and refrigerators, bathrooms with tubs, forced warm air heat and vinyl asbestos floors.

General construction work is under the direction of the Manistique Builders; plumbing and heating, Hohok Brothers; and electrical work, Roemer's Electric.

At the time ground-breaking ceremonies were held in October, the city expressed an intent to sell the units to qualified low-income families under a lease-purchase plan.

Judge Rules Insanity In 1959 Case:

Man Found Innocent In Slaying Of Mother

Kenneth John Bernier, 26, has been found innocent by reason of insanity in the 1959 slaying of his mother.

The verdict was rendered late Friday afternoon by Circuit Judge Donald Munro of Ontonagon after a two-day trial in Schoolcraft County.

Although Bernier was acquitted, he was ordered recommitted to the jurisdiction of the Michigan Dept. of Mental Health "for appropriate treatment . . . and until such time as he is legally declared sane, according to Michigan statutes," the judge ruled.

Been Hospitalized

Bernier has been a patient in state institutions for the past 11 years and recently was declared competent to stand trial in the opinion of officials of Traverse City State Hospital.

Testimony during the two-day trial revealed that Bernier fatally shot his mother, Beatrice, as she rested on a sofa in the family home at 4:30 p. m. Oct. 23, 1959. Mrs. Bernier was struck in the head by two shots from a .22 caliber rifle. Young Bernier then was 16 years old. Shortly after the shooting, he was committed to the State Hospital at Newberry and, later, the Ionia State Hospital. Since 1968, he has been a patient at Traverse City State Hospital.

Defense witnesses called by Manistique attorney George Wood included Dr. Edward H. Lass, psychiatrist at Newberry State Hospital; former city patrolman George Danko and the defendant's sister and brother, Mrs. Coreen Schnurer and Francis Bernier.

Witnesses Listed

Prosecuting Attorney Gottfried S. Johnson called Danko; Richard Walters; Trooper Robert J. Kenny of Battle Creek; State Police Det. Lt. James R. Myers and Cpl. James Minsey, both of East Lansing; Sheriff Lloyd Gray; Coroner Robert Broulliere; former public safety director Roy Anderson; former justice of the peace and now district court magistrate Howard Magoon; and John Mincoff as state witnesses.

Bernier was returned to Schoolcraft County jail following the verdict. Court officers said he probably will be returned to Traverse City or some other state institution early next week.

Hudson's Store

Ordered To Pay Killing Reward

DETROIT (AP) — A Wayne County Circuit judge has ruled that the J.L. Hudson Co. must pay a $10,000 reward to a man who turned in his son for the murder of a Hudson's employee.

George Larry, 56, of Detroit, gave police information leading to the arrest of his son, Donald, 19. The younger Larry was convicted of manslaughter in the stabbing death of William Frederick, an employee at Hudson's downtown store.

The company had offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killer. The department store contended a stipulation of the award was that conviction had to occur within one year of the killing and that Larry's conviction came 13 months after the reward was posted.

Judge John D. O'Hair ruled, however, that "Hudson's wanted an arrest and conviction and they received it in full." "Mr. Larry complied with the offer and is entitled to the money."

The younger Larry is currently serving a 14 to 15 year sentence at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

Jimmy weighs a full ten pounds only when he's full of formula. But to his daddy, he's the weight of the whole world when its time for that 2 A.M. feeding. What a chore it is, but it allows plenty of time for thinking:

What kind of man will Jimmy grow up to be? What kind of father will I be to him? How can I keep him from following the wrong crowd? How can I help him to value the worthwhile things? How can I give him a solid foundation for life?

The responsibility that parenthood places on people is a heavy weight. A sensible man can't take it lightly. But the Church can help him bear it wisely. In church he will discover those enduring values, something against which to measure his own standards—and, as he finds these things for himself, he will pass them on to his son.

The church can't rear your children for you, but it can help you as you do the job. It's a champion weight-lifter.
